EXTRACTS. THE LILY. BY H. W. LONGERLLOW Beautiful lily, dwelling by still rivers, Or where the slaggish mendow brook delivers Ita waters to the weir !. Thou laughest at the mill, the whire and worry Of swindle and of loam. And the great wheel that tells amid the hurry And rushing of the flume. Born to the purple, born to joy and pleasance, Thou dost not toil nor epin, But makest glad and redient with thy presence The mendow and the lin. The wind blows, and aplifts thy drooping ban And round thee throng and run The rushes, the green yeemen of thy manor, The outlaws of the sun. The burnished dragon fly is thine attendant. And tilts against the field, And down the listed sunharm rides resplendent With steel-blue-mail and shield. Thou art the Iris, fair among the fairest, Who, armed with golden rod And winged with the colestial neuro, bearest The message of some god.
